2/ Stewart Reuben's report on round 7

If you lose in the first round, life usually continues to be a drag and you do not recover. I have asked other sportsman in other fields. The all agree, you play better when on a roll. Thus, the fact that young Pentala Harikrishna took the lead today after winning against Chanda Sandipan, I particularly admirable. You only have to look at the difference in the average rating of their opponents, 2424 for Pentala and 2537 for Chanda, to realise there is something unfair about this. Antoaneta Stefanova was the player who engineered the young Indian's downfall in round 1. Now she languishes on 4/7 - well that is also unfair. She is gaining a healthy number of rating points and, in fact, more than the Indian lad.

I don't think anybody was surprised that the two highest-rated players, Dreev and Short drew. In a Swiss though, they cannot do as in a round robin, that is coast to a trivial draw. Surya Ganguly beat Jon Speelman. This is no mean feat. The world is not populated with large numbers of players who have beaten the genial Londoner. Vladimir Epishin has won his last three games in a row and thus moved back into contention. He must surely be the world's most active major grandmaster. Tejas Bakre won with black against the young, extremely talented and very pleasant young Kalmyk, Ernesto Inarkiev. The Indian is now set fair to gain his final grandmaster norm if he scores 1/2. Paul Motwani beat the 12 year-old David Howell. That's the way to Paul. Beat them before they become too strong. That does not put paid to the young Englishman's title aspirations. He has played such a strong field that he probably just needs 50% from the next two games to secure his final im norm.
